

Giving Meters - A program of the Public Safety Tack Force of Atlanta

The Public Safety Taskforce of Atlanta has organized a city-wide initiative to eliminate aggressive panhandling titled Give Change that Makes Sense. One major aspect of the initiative is a public education campaign that delivers two messages: (1) stop giving money to aggressive panhandlers (2) redirect support to homeless shelters and social services centers by making online donations or depositing change into one of numerous Giving Meters located throughout the City of Atlanta.

Your interest in acquiring a Giving Meter to put near your business or building is sincerely appreciated. The total cost to purchase a Giving Meter is $375. The City will install and service the meters at no cost. To proceed with your order, please complete the form below.
