CLUES

1. In Pemberton Place, two social icons go for a ride on a water slide. Who are the featured icons?

2. At the Gateway of Dreams in Centennial Olympic Park, there is a man walking up three steps. What is the man’s name? What is he holding?

3. On Broad Street, a unique art piece highlights the importance of education. What are the children using to reach the top of the sculpture’s arch?

4. If you visit Folk Art Park, you will see four whirligigs created by Vollis Simpson. What figure is within each whirligig? There should be four answers—one per whirligig.

5. What type of ancient monument can you find at Walton Spring Park?

6. On Walton Street, there is a Living Walls mural depicting three playing children. What are the colors of the children’s shirts?

7. There are four archways along Alabama Street in Underground Atlanta. What is the slogan atop the archways?

8. A statue of Dominique Wilkins was recently erected in front of Philips Arena. What poem is featured on the statue?

9. The Mammal Gallery is a DIY Artist Space on South Broad Street. Across from the gallery is a mural with the slogan "I’m not a _____, I just _____ a lot." Fill in the blanks.

10. There’s a sculpture at Woodruff Park that showcases Atlanta’s ongoing regeneration and spirit. What is the name of that sculpture?

11. What four names are inscribed on the marble monument at Hardy Ivy Park?

12. Have you been on the Atlanta Streetcar yet? It’s a great way to access entertainment, restaurants, and attractions. How many parks can you access along the Atlanta Streetcar route?

13. What theater used to stand across from Margaret Mitchell Square? (clue: there is a historic marker on the ground)

14. What is the shape of the lock that seals the #WeLoveATL exhibit at the CNN Center?

15. The Sweet Auburn Curb Market has a friendly animal wearing some Curb Market swag. What type of animal is it?

ALL ANSWERS ARE DUE BY 11:59 PM ON FRIDAY, JUNE 19.

VISIT ATLANTADOWNTOWN.COM/SNEAKERWEEK TO SUBMIT YOUR ANSWERS.